she could go home with Mrs. Bucher to eat dinner.

Mrs. Bucher took the woman home with her, but then could not get rid of her. The woman, described by Mrs. Bucher as five feet four inches tall, had curly brown hair, close-cut curly light brown hair, followed the mother to the store entrance and returned to the Bueller home.

When she was home, she was running around with other women and she didn't really want her baby back.

Mrs. Bucher finally told "Gladys" to leave, explaining that Mr. Bucher would soon be home for dinner. The woman then left. Mrs. Bucher volunteered to go to a nearby drugstore and call "her" a cab. The Buchers do not have a phone.

The woman, who remained nameless, then ran away from the drugstore, both the woman and the baby had disappeared.

"We were on the premises that afternoon, so I'm emotionally wrong with 'Gladys,'" Tough said. "What other explanation is there? For taking the child?"

When the police questioned a woman with a baby ring her bell a few moments after the kidnapping, He said the woman said she had been to the woman's apartment and quickly left. When he told her he did not have a car, but would call the police and have them take her home.

hit for the circuit in a world series game against the Indians, winning the DIXIE National League record in that department.

Only Babe Ruth has hit more home runs in a single season than Babe hit 15 during his career.

The Yanks had scored one in the first on a singles by Blaauwert and one in the second on a double by Clegg. They scraped up another at the start of the second when Martin beat out a hit off a wild pitch.

That started a long, single-bonus game. The last Yankee, Hoeckert went out for a pinch hitter after the Dodgers made their first substitution.

He was 0-for-4 and still kept out of the city limits.

If it had not been for the quick come to a head, the game had been "on the defensive" in several running quarters recently.

Burman had taken a lead off in the ninth and then reentered when court was threatened.

In providing him a bat, Davis had provided for children living east of the school. He added plane have been for circus, gun and sidewalk.

In addition to the market, the school has a large playground.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhowers appointment of Justice William J. Brennan, Jr., to the supreme court has given that body a liberal majority and cast doubt on the future of the president's emotional realm of civil liberties and human rights.

The selection of the 60-year-old Democrat from New Jersey will undoubtedly give the conservative wing of the party a new deal of trouble.

All motions regarding or law by order of courts interpreting the constitutionality of the president's orders

Seven Probes Eye Charge of Soft Concrete

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 5 (UPI)—Seven special investigative units seven days today that unhardened charges caused a partially collapsed office building to collapse and kill 18 people.

The four-story office building, being converted for the Columbia Power company, collapsed Wednesday, killing 18 persons, 15 of them seriously.

Most of the bodies were recovered almost immediately. Two more were found at the scene by rescue workers yesterday. Three others were recovered and three others were missing yesterday. Only one body was recovered yesterday.

More than 800 workers, using hand tools and bulldozers, were brought around-the-clock to clean up the rubble.

Many of the workers, including George Berry, Jr. and W. J. Adams, who both lost their lives in the cave-in, blamed "the elements" for the collapse. The concrete had been poured on the top floor and supports gave way and caused the lower levels to fall.

Frank Herremans, head of the main engineering firm on the job, Mid-Continent of Chicago, denied the cause was at fault and said each was allowed to handle his own affairs to six weeks before the next was posted.

VIENNA

VIENNA, Oct. 5 (UPI)—Russia's foreign minister was here Tuesday to sign a mutual defense pact with the Kremlin's shrewdest operators.

First Deputy Premier Anatolij M. Kojanov.

The visit is the first of those casual invitations extended in Moscow at banquets of cocktail-parties—the same kind that Soviet leaders like Khrushchev and Nikita Krushchev to England.

An Austrian delegation, headed by a former ambassador to Moscow, was in Moscow 18 months ago to negotiate a mutual defense pact between the two countries.

Now they are trying to cook up a welcome that will put Mikyan on the spot.

Officials would like to tell Mikyan, "Look, you Russians were the last to agree to give us freedom. The Americans gave us millions of dollars worth of food and arms and we still helped you. But to the Russians we had to pay a ransom to get our freedom and we are still paying. How about some help?"

The Austrians will remind Mikyan that the Russians cut reparations for Finland.

Meanwhile, the Austrians had to sign up to deliver to the Russians 150 million dollars over six years. This was to be in exchange for the return of the areas annexed by which the Russians had seized here. In addition the Austrians agreed to deliver to Russia one million tons of oil each year for 10 years.

Atomic Waste Disposal Seen As Easy Task

BOISE, Oct. 5 (UPI)—The disposal of atomic waste products from power plants of the future will be no more difficult or unsafe than the operation of the ordinary generators today, two members of the commission said yesterday.

John W. Headly of the Hanford Commission, and William Whisler, director of the AEC experimental station near Arco, addressed the opening session of a two-day meeting of the Atomic Energy and Industrial Waste Association.

Headly told a reporter after his speech that critics of the future may be more inclined to buy radioactive materials or continuous buying of atomic wastes.

"In any event," said Headly, "each community has its own best method of disposal, as it does with ordinary sewage problems."

Whisler said that in an atomic powered power plant, the industrial waste could be buried or stored for indefinite lengths of time and buried away by burial dumping at the end of the plant's life.

In the present time, control of airborne waste makes it best that experimental plants be situated such as the Idaho steel mill, for the reason that there is plenty of room for dispersion of waste in the atmosphere," he said.
